

I am in full support of RM-10869. I would like to add that code transmission may be the only option available to some amateurs with certain handicaps. Also, it may be the only transmission option for financially-challenged amateur radio operators who may find it a hardship to afford the more-expensive telephony gear.